University of Florida GAP Program

- Application is only available on The Common Application.
- Priority application deadline is November 1.
- SSAR (Student Self-Reported Academic Record) deadline is November 15.
 - Once students have submitted the SSAR and it is locked, they will not be able to make changes.
 - However, if they submit their SSAR and make a change prior to November 15, please make sure they understand that they must submit their SSAR again to lock it and that they check to make sure the SSAR is linked to their application. If students have questions about this step, they can find our FAQ
- Test ACT or SAT Score deadline is December 1.
 - (Optional) We will be super scoring both the SAT and ACT this year.
- The middle 50% of our 2022-2023 freshman class increased slightly from the previous year:
 - GPA: 4.4-4.6
 - SAT: 1350-1490
 - ACT: 30-34

2+2 Programs: AA to BA

How to Pay for College in FL | Florida Education Costs (floridashines.org)

- You can achieve your dream of a bachelor's degree without breaking the bank. It's as simple as 2 + 2.
- Florida's 2 + 2 Program
 - The cost of a bachelor's degree from a state university is more affordable than you think. Florida's 2 + 2 Program creates a seamless path for students with an associate's degree to enter a state university.
 - To be eligible for Florida's 2 + 2 Program, students must first earn an associate's degree at a state college. Students who earn an associate's degree at a state college are automatically guaranteed admission to a state university.
 - Under the program, students complete their general education courses in college, including core courses that are required for every graduate from a state college or university. Students are also required to declare their intended major after earning 30 hours of course credit, which is generally after their freshman year. Declaring a major helps students take the right courses to ensure they are prepared to pursue their bachelor's degree when they enter a university.
 - Because state colleges are both accessible and affordable, students can save money while staying on time and on track to earning a bachelor's degree. State colleges have an "open door" admissions policy which allows anyone with a high school diploma to enroll. Tuition at state colleges is also about two-thirds the cost of tuition at universities.
